OTHER WITNESSES.

When it comes to mistaking a case The Rep admits the existence of no equal in the country. The editor of that paper has at last seen that it is impossible to defend the tombstone resolutions as they read, and so he has taken to putting a construction of his own upon them. Here is how he sizes them up in a recent issue: "When the republican county convention, by resolution, protested against teaching the righteousness of the confederate dogmas of the war at this time, The Review," etc. Does The Rep really think the above was the protest of that convention? Let us see what the resolution was:

Resolved, That we urge our representatives to pass an act of Congress making it a penal offense to display so called confederate flags or to erect monuments in our memorial of dead traitors.

Does that sound anything like a dignified protest against teaching the dogma of secession? Is it teaching secession for a Southern man to put a monument above the grave of his dead Lee? There is not a cold patriot in Macon county who thinks it is. But there are dozens of them here who dread to see the close of the bloodless war that has been raging for the last 25 years.
They know that when it is gone their hold upon political power will pass away.
The war has been prolonged beyond its time by designing men in the republican party in order that they might use it as a screen behind which to rob the workmen-men of the Nation and the farmers of the West. Many of those fellows away down in their hearts have no hatred for the South.
They showed this by staying at home when it was proposed to give that section of the country a drubbing. Of course there were many that went out and fought bravely, but they are not the ones who are now engaged in framing tombstone resolutions. Such resolutions dont come from the G. A. R. posts; they come from conventions of office seekers.

The Rep. comes to the defense of these men and does the best it knows how. The old soldier who is new editor of that paper does himself credit by refusing to understand the tombstone resolution as it reads.
But the resolution is there for everyone to read, and let each determine for himself what was meant.

The Rep. speaking as the official organ of the party in the county, is bound to contend that the war has not closed. This is the only official opinion that is allowed it.
The exigencies of the case that surrounds the Macon patriots require that a war be kept continually going. The camp follower is out in force, and his occupation will last as long as human greed.

But has the war closed? This is an important question to the man who wants to vote on other matters. The Western man wants to beat the economical policy that now dominates this country. The Rep has made some complaint about witnesses The Review introduced on the questions of the South's loyalty and the display of confederate flags. South Water will please state its objection to The New York Tribune on these questions. But we will pass that and see what the leading fighters in the war have to say about its close.

Gen. Grant at Mt. McGregor, while he was dying, and after he had lost the power of speech, wrote these words on a piece of paper: "I have witnessed since my sickness just what I have wished to see ever since the war: harmony and peace and good feeling between the sections." The man who loves Grant can be glad that his last days were not spent in Macon county, within reach of the tombstone resolutions and shadowed by the spirit that prompted them. When the leader of the Northern forces was dying he left a message of peace to his people. What must be thought of the man to who would scold the recesses of creation for material to blast that peace? He must want office very badly.

And there has been objection to the monument that was raised to Gen. Lee; the tombstone resolution was probably directed at that very monument. He is one of the men who is branded as a dead traitor.
Honor to his memory by Southern people is preaching the dogma of secession. Let us take an extract from an open letter of Gen. Lee to Gov. Letcher, the war governor of Virginia. The letter was written after the war, that is the one in which the soldiers took part. In this letter Gen. Lee says: "The questions which for years were in dispute between the state and general Government, and which, unhappily, were not decided by the dictates of reason, but referred to the decision of war, having been decided against us, it is the part of wisdom to acquiesce in the result and of candor to recognize the fact. The interests of the state are therefore the same as those of the United States. Its prosperity will rise or fall with the welfare of the country. The duty of its citizens, then, appears to me to plain to admit of doubt. All should unite in honest efforts to obliterate the effects of the war, and to restore the blessings of peace."

Can we of the North afford to allow the Southern people to honor the man who leaves them such a message as the above?
After what Grant and Lee have said there is no wonder that the blue and the gray unite together at Vicksburg. But there were thousands who knew neither Grant nor Lee. These dont see the necessity of jacking any great weight in the words of the dead leaders. These are the ones who see in every tombstone a call to arms—and possibly a door to some office.

A PHANTOM DELEGATE.
Who is the Irish voter in the First Ward that called at The Rep office and had that aper, in the name of the tax-payers, call for the resignation of P. W. Delaney? We imagine The Rep is trying to run in a fake man. If any such man called, was he not a little mistaken about his appearance being in a representative capacity? The Review has a force of reporters who never miss anything that is going on, and especially is this true of the doings in the First Ward.
Now if there was a mass meeting of taxpayers in that ward recently, our folks never heard of it. And if this man who presents himself to The Rep as an Irish voter was not appointed at a mass meeting, we would like to know where he got his commission? It is a pretty serious matter to have the tax-payers meet and demand a resignation, and so we desire to probe this matter a little further.

We have talked to more than a dozen taxpayers in that ward, and each of them declies all knowledge of such a meeting, and not one of them knew he was represented at The Rep office by "Irish Voter." In fact if there was any such meeting, the men who live in the First Ward and pay taxes have lost all knowledge of it. If they were present they didn't know anything about it.
It looks as if somebody was sailing around in doubtful quarters with a commission that he conjured up in a brain troubled with chronic nightmare. Either this, or The Rep local has been calling on his own imagination.

Anyhow, the strange delegate from nowhere puts the taxpayers of the First ward in the position of complaining at a reduction of taxes. We dont wonder that such a man should imagine that he has credentials as a delegate. It would be something new, even in Bedlam, to hear the people demand increased direct taxes. The taxpayers in the First ward dont want it understood that they are unlike their brothers in all other parts of the world. If a public servant can be hired for $80 a month, they will not get up in the night to howl because $70 was not paid. Oh no, they are not built that way; they are rational men. And they further have a prejudice in favor of rational delegates.

There is some wonder that this voter delegate did not claim to represent the taxpayers of all Decatur. Five aldermen voted with Mr. Delaney to pay the fire chief $50 a month. How does it come that this delegate without credentials forgot to ask for their resignations? We cant suppose he as-toward Mr. Delaney with personal malice; he is evidently of the opinion that an economical turn is malfeasance in office that calls for a resignation. Five other men were in the same boat, and yet the delegate did not call for their heads. We think that when commissions are got by simply calling on the imagination he is a poor stick of a delegate who does not claim to represent all the people in right.

And Mr. Delaney may hold on to his office so long as no more serious charge than economy is brought against him. And if he time should ever come when this is rime, Mr. Delaney will find that the taxpayers will not be the ones to press it.
The delegate had better take another trip into dreamland and see if it isn't the tax-gatherer he represents.

It is not true that the democrats' principal objection to the Force bill is the expense of putting it in practice. Neither is it true that the republicans in the House vote against applying it in every district because of the expense. The democrats object to the bill because its effect is to take elections out of the hands of the people. The republicans object to making it generally applicable in the North because they think it advisable to make a gradual approach on our people's rights. It is not a question of expense; it is one of principle and constitutional right. The republicans have thrown in a little cunning.

The Rep keeps on talking about election frauds in the South. The people in this district are now called upon to prevent the intrusion of election frauds into our own midst. Shall such men as Dudley count our votes and make returns for us? Reed's gang reformed the tariff by making it drunk; now it would reform the ballot by turning it over to the mercies of a National Campaign Committee.

What have the people in this district done that their right to control their own elections should be surrendered to the National Committee of any party? That is the question that Mr. Rowell will answer or come down from his high place.

From the way Street Commissioner Alexander makes vegetation flourish on such poor soil as is furnished by our brick pavements we should imagine there would be a fortune in employing him on some large farm as a fertilizer.

GENTLEMEN, when you go to Boston to boom the Memorial Hall dont take along a copy of the tombstone resolution. The G.
A. R. boys are likely to steer clear of a town in which such things grow spontaneously.

The little base ball stir has settled on the woodbine. Decatur is not buying the tail ends of anything—unless it be Congressmen. But one is enough, and we hope to reform even in that one case.

What has our friend, Capt. DeWitt Columbus Shockley to say about the Force bill? Let him brace up to it; it may make a very good substitute for paving brick.

Excursion Rates.

A. F. Smith, yesterday received word from J. F. Giddard, of Chicago, chairman of the Western Passenger association that excursion tickets will be sold at a fare and a third for the round trip to the National Prohibition camping meet from July 31st to August 12, from points within a radius of 75 miles of Decatur. All other roads will grant same rates during the meeting.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD.

Inducements to Employees to Invest in Stock of the Road.

Concerning the published rumor that the officers of the Illinois central railroad are seeking to induce their employees to invest their savings in the securities of that corporation, President Fish, of Chicago, said yesterday that the company has no stock for sale, but proposes to assist any of its officers or employees to buy one share at a time at a fair market price, the purchaser to pay in sums of not less than $5. On these sums will be paid and when the share is paid for he can, if he wishes, begin the purchase of another. It is hoped to enlist every frugal person in any way connected with the railroad as a partner, on a basis of the utmost liberality to the small investor. It is not proposed to form a savings bank or benevolent association, the experience of the company being that men prefer to handle these matters themselves. The purchaser may at any time have his contract cancelled and money returned to him with interest. Thus the company assumes the entire risks of a fall in the price of shares and the expense of doing the work. President Fish says that this plan properly presented will induce greater thrift among the men, and through their example spread among the people the habit of saving and investing in securities of the railroad which runs past their doors. The ultimate object is to produce in the community a feeling of interest among the citizens in railways which shall give perfection of railway service and the most profitable investments for small prices in sound dividend paying railway shares.

ON FLYING RINGS.

Robert Stoll, a Champion Amateur Gymnast.

UNSURPASSED FOR SIX YEARS.

Malcolm W. Ford Writes About His Wonderful Performances—A 39-inch Chest and Remarkably Developed Arm Muscles Render Him Practically Invincible at the Game.

Although championships at field games have been given for about fifteen years in amateur athletic circles, similar titles have been given for gymnastic performances only since 1885. The first gymnastic champion ship meeting was held at the Tugboat Club, New York city, under the auspices of the American Athletic club. Robert Stoll, whose picture is given here, won the event known as the flying rings on that occasion, and each year since then he has demonstrated his superiority in this line. The other events on the programme each year are parallel bars, horizontal bar, rope swinging and rope climbing. These other events have been distributed pretty well among various athletes, but the list of champions on the flying rings for the six years shows no other name than Stoll.

He made his debut in athletics as a middle distance runner, and at a half mile and a mile he was heavily ranked.

He was heavily ranked third or fourth best in America. He is 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, has 38 pounds in his chest muscles. When he was running his best he cut an entirely different figure from the average foot racer, for he was heavily built around the chest and arms and looked more like a miniature weight thrower than one who was fleet footed.

Since his retirement from running he has worked considerably in a gymnasium on a parallel and horizontal bar, and on the rings, and has won many prizes.

His specialties on the rings are forward and back swings, and horizontal swings, swinging hand balances, the cross and slow pull and push ups. He not only has a monopoly so far as ease and grace of movement is concerned, but the combinations in which he commences on one feat and does not drop from the rings until he has performed three or four others, making one movement of the lot is where his superiority is noticed. A number of good judges who were present last March when Stoll won the flying ring championship for the sixth time said that they had never seen a professional who could equal him in the art of the rings.

On this occasion Stoll won 434 points out of a possible 45, and the other competitors, although they were high class, seemed almost like novices alongside of him.

In 1885 rope climbing was added to the programme, the game consisting of climbing a certain length of rope against time. Stoll won the event, defeating the next man by two-fifths of a second; but in 1889 and 1890 he had to succumb to the quicker acting muscles of other men. He thinks that so much practice in heavy arm exercise to acquire proficiency on the flying rings has made his muscles too slow for fast rope climbing.

His build is very suitable for arm work, for his legs are not heavy, and he therefore has less weight to support or carry when on the apparatus. He exercises regularly certain evenings in a gymnasium and attends to a successful jewelry business during the day. He joined the New York Athletic club a year ago, and since then has represented it in the various competitions.

MALCOLM W. FORD.

Killed Twenty Times.
A cavalry force of some twenty-five men surprised a small party of Indians in a thick chuparral, through which, however, there were numerous glades and openings. The Indians scattered at once, and the soldiers separated in pursuit.

After some time, when the cessation of firing indicated that the affair was over, the commander had the recall sounded.

Soon one and then another came in, until the whole company was assembled, when, to the gratification of the officer, almost every man claimed to have killed an Indian. They went to collect the bodies.

On reaching the first one it was found that nearly every soldier claimed to have killed him.

A sergeant dismounted and approached the body. The prostrate Indian rose up and dealt a vicious blow with his knife, which the sergeant barely escaped. When the Indian was finally killed it was discovered that he had not less than twenty wounds.

A bullet, probably the first one, had broken by his hip and thrown him from his horse. After that he had shot at every soldier that passed near him, attracting attention and being "killed" again and again, only to rise up and fight the next soldier who came along.

Instead of twenty Indians, the soldiers found one.—Youth's Companion.

The Metric System.
The American Metrological society, at a meeting held in Washington, advocated the adoption of the metric system by the government for custom house and foreign mail service. The metric system is used by twenty-four nations in involving goods for shipment abroad, and many of them use it for all purposes.—New Orleans Picayune.

I suffered with neuralgia in the head, but found instant relief from the application of S. J. Jacobs' Nerve Pain Oil.

THE F. M. B. A.

Resolute, Finish Their Business and Adjourn.
The second quarterly meeting of the Macon County F. M. B. A. is at an end, and the members have gone to their respective homes after having done some good work. A union barbecue meeting will be held in September and committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the picnic.

The F. M. B. A. in Macon county has 1125 members, comprising 25 lodges. Seven lodges were admitted yesterday and that was just organized applied too late for admission. The organization is in a flourishing condition, and as their object in organization is self-protection, only The Review wishes them success in their object.

Resolved, That this organization is in no wise a political party, but that in legislative, senatorial and congressional nominations we demand of all candidates that they be publicly pledged to maintain the principles and demands hereinafter set forth:

Second, Whereas the agricultural interests of the United States are represented by vast investments and the farmers of America are to-day at the mercy of trusts and combines organized by capitalists, while the products of their toil are the playthings of the boards of trade and grain gamblers, and whereas from the bosom of mother earth, nurtured in her generosity, by the skill and toil of those farmers spring the very life bread of every other pursuit and class of our population, and

Whereas, we feel our dependence on other classes, yet we do feel, and the truth has become so apparent, that it can no longer be denied or refuted by the most skeptical that instead of being favored or accorded an even chance by the law, and policies adopted by the government we have been made "the hewers of wood and drawers of water," for the favored classes who have been made the pets of the people, and that they have become tyrannical and dictatorial masters.

Resolved, That we demand from our representatives and senators in Congress such legislation, by which it shall be made the duty of the president of the United States by his subordinate officers in the proper department to see to it, that upon the formation of any combine or trust that the article or articles manufactured by aforesaid trust or combine shall be permitted to enter the ports of the United States duty free, until the trust is broken.

Third, We believe the tariff should be revised by the legislature.

Fourth, We are opposed to any more restrictions upon trade than is absolutely necessary to obtain sufficient revenue to defray the legitimate expenses of the government economically administered.

Fifth, While we are opposed to class legislation, yet if our representative in congress deem it wise and expedient to pay a bounty upon sugar, raw silk, or to any other industries, we earnestly request and demand a bounty upon such agricultural staples, as corn, wheat, oats, pork and beef. Also that the government loan its credit to farmers on their farms and products as security in sums as low as $50, at not to exceed 5 per cent interest, or else to repeal acts providing for National banks, bonded warehouses, and all class legislation acts.

Sixth, We favor the election of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people.

Seventh, We deprecate and denounce unequal apportionments of districts for the election of representatives in congress, and we believe that the voters of the state should be allowed to make their own apportionments, which they could do if the apportionment were made by law, and each voter were permitted to cast one vote for one candidate for congress.

Eighth, We are opposed to class legislation in every particular.

Ninth, We favor the adoption of the Australian ballot system, so as to provide a fair and secret ballot.

Tenth, We demand such alterations of all license laws as will as compel the payment into the county treasury of all saloon license fees.

Eleventh, We demand that our legislature pass a law making 6 percent the highest collectable rate of interest.

REMEMBER

And be Present that Decatur Shall Not Suffer.
Yesterday the committee appointed by the G. A. R. to solicit subscriptions for the purpose of defraying the expenses necessary to the obtaining of the endorsement of the National encampment, met with pretty good success yesterday, but something more and better must be done.

The National Memorial Hall building ought to come to Decatur. It will come to Decatur if the people will do their part. And they should not hesitate at all to do all they can to secure it. Aside from the sacred associations clustering around the birthplace of the G. A. R.; aside from any impulse of patriotism, the city is very foolish if she does not do all in her power to secure the building. The city isn't out much anyway, and the results for good extend all over the Union. The Memorial hall will be a National hall, it will not belong to Decatur or to Illinois; it will belong to the Union. It is National in its character, and private as to its pecuniary benefits. Will you please understand? The Nation pays the real expense and Decatur reaps the benefit. This is the situation in a nutshell. All that is asked of you is the means to properly and decently defray the expenses necessarily incurred in pressing Decatur's claim to the national encampment for endorsement. Do you know what endorsement means? It means that 400,000 G. A. R. men are willing to subscribe 50 or 50 cents apiece towards the construction of the memorial hall, and it means the expenditure of several thousands of dollars. Do all you can to help the matter through. It will not cost you much individually but it means much for Decatur.

Deserves and Must Get the Encouragement of the People.
The committee appointed to request the business men of Decatur to suspend business for half a day during the races is meeting with good success. Nearly all of the merchants have agreed to close one half day during the races, and Thursday, the 17th has been selected as the day. Every business enterprise in Decatur ought to be suspended that afternoon. The factories, the small retail establishments and every business in any way anxious to make a dollar should be in favor of doing everything possible to bring strangers to this city. Every state in the Union is represented by horses, and each horse represented has got a record, therefore for the good of the town turn out and attend the races. They are good not only for the town but for you individually.

THE DECATUR RACES

Yesterday at noon, about 50 of the shoelers employed on the Broadway sewer laid down their tools and quit work. They have been getting $1.50 per day and think they ought to have $1.75. They didn't ask for the advance it is claimed, but just quit and supposed the reason of their quitting apparent to the bosses. Some of the men were offered $1.75 to resume work, but they refused unless all hands were given that sum. Other men were secured to fill the places of the strikers and the work is going along steadily.

The water that bothered workmen on Tuesday bothers them no more and everything points to a favorable continuation of the work.

TRACK AND TRAIN.

H. F. Houghton went to Bement yesterday.

All engines on the Illinois Central are being renumbered.

Switchman Mike Connelly, of the T. II. & P., has resigned.

Trainmaster Heck Ballow, of the Wabash, was over from Forrest yesterday.

The body of Brakeman W. H. Johnson, who was killed in Illinois Tuesday night, passed through here yesterday for Indianapolis, where it will be buried.

Conductor Greene, of the Effingham branch, was looking around for a menagerie manager. He claimed to have the greatest curiosity on the Effingham branch of the Wabash—a real reprobate.

Conductor George W. Jenkins is back again on his old run between Danville and Decatur. He was changed in March last, and has since that time been out in Colorado for several weeks for his health and on a vacation.

The Central House under the management of R. Tugart has taken a great many steps forward and is now entitled to rank with our first-class hotels by a big majority. Jim Glazebrook, the day man at the Central, has lost none of his old-time popularity, and is lately winning guests and good opinions for the new management.

Accidental Death.
The daughter of W. C. Biller and wife, of 945 West Macon street, died Tuesday night at the home of her parents from the effects of a dose of London purple, which she accidentally got hold of about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Biller had mixed up the poison and sweetened it, placing it on the window sill for the purpose of destroying the flies. It was afterward placed upon the stove, where the little girl saw it, and as it was sweet, ate the entire contents of the saucer. Everything that was possible was done for the little girl, but at 7:30 o'clock she passed away. She was about 3 years old, and was the pride of her parents and the pet of the neighborhood, being most beautiful child with the kindest of disposition. It is indeed a sad affliction upon the parents, who have the deepest sympathy of their friends and neighbors.

The funeral took place yesterday evening at 4 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. A. Bradshaw officiating.

Sons of Veterans.
The third annual encampment of the Platt county battalion Sons of Veterans and various camps in Central Illinois began yesterday at Mansfield. The fire companies from Clinton, Saybrook, Leroy, Gibson City, Farmer City, Champaign and Urbana took part in the encampment last night. There was a grand reception given the members of the encampment and Col. George B. Stadden, staff commander of the Illinois division, at the residence of L. M. Fairbanks. The address was by Hon. Isaac N. Phillips, of Bloomington, Gov. Fifer's late law partner. Maj. Charles F. Mansfield, of the Illinois division, is in command of the encampment.

THE SPRINGFIELD RACES.

There Were Four Races Yesterday—Full Particulars.
Special Dispatch to THE REVIEW.
The races at Springfield are still attracting great attention. There were four races Wednesday, and they were very interesting. Yesterday was a fine day for the races and there was a large attendance upon the grounds. The weather was perfect and the track was in excellent condition. The horses were in fine trim, and every circumstance was just right for great races.

The grand stand was comfortably filled, and the quarter stretch was well filled with stylish buggies, carriages and other vehicles. The first race was called a little after 1 o'clock, and was to have come off yesterday.

2:24 CLASS TROTTING PURSE, $500.

Second Race—Starters were six in number: Tiltie Herr, b. m., Charles Stevenson, Bloomington, Ill.; John Bonar, gr. g.; Bruce Carr, Indianapolis, Ind.; Pilot Gift, b. s.; J. Coleman, Decatur, Ill.; Walter Wilton, b. g.; H. R. Galef, Monticello, Ill.; Captain O. b. g., Charles Crawley, Indianapolis, Mich.

Three horses distanced in first heat and the others came in same in each of the other heats as follows:
Pilot Gift, 1 1 1
Capt. O., 2 2 2
Tiltie Herr, 3 3 3
Time, 2:22; 2:19 1/2; 2:30 1/2.

The races are attracting large crowds and considerable attention.

STRAY SCRAPS.
Yesterday was a great day for Alexander's weeds.

Dr. A. S. Wals has had an electric fan placed in his office.

The bicycle boys are practicing industriously at the race track.

J. S. Meynard, of this city, has been granted an original pension.

Jake Willis is the proud possessor of a new harness and new four wheel cart.

R. A. Newell, of Clinton, is visiting his brother, Charles Newell, in this city.

The lemonade refreshment stand at the race track will be under the control of Tom Fields.

The Union Campmeeting will commence at Oakland Park to-day. Rev. Elias is the leader.

Charles Walker and wife have returned from Mt. Sterling, after a week's visit with friends.

The horse bitched to wagon No. 3, of the Tank Line company, ran away yesterday from the Tank Line yards to Boone's stable on East Carro Gorder street, where he was stopped by some men. No damage was done.

A. F. Rodgers, the East Eldorado street butcher, has a valuable horse that was badly cut by getting in contact with a barbed wire fence Tuesday night. Dr. Held stopped the bleeding and saved the horse.

Allen Golemlakzeikuiski, a Wabash truck repainer, got stuck in the eye yesterday, and injured rather seriously. Dr. Hosteler attended the injured man, and Allen will live through it if his name doesn't get affected.

The property owners on Lawrence street, east of Webster street, want to know what they have done that they cannot have sidewalks in their part of town. Perhaps it is a part of the "protection policy" to refuse them.

A colored man at Huff's restaurant last night was an attraction that was interesting to a large crowd who were congregated there. He played upon three instruments all at once—a guitar, harmonica and a call bell. He was a whole band by himself.

The Citizens company has not finished writing its track to the race course. The work will probably be finished to-day. There was to be a band concert out there this evening, but we understand it has been postponed until they know for sure that the wires are in good working order.

We are informed that the band concert will be held in Decatur again this summer—probably in August. A number of valuable prizes will be awarded in several classes, and no pains will be spared to make this gathering of bands a krauder affair than the one held in this city last year.

There is complaint of entirely too much stealing at the race track. Yesterday at noon someone took a painter's outfit, and it seems that it is not safe to lay anything down for a moment. Some one of the petty thieves will yet get himself caught, and then he will learn to his sorrow how gaudy the race horse man can forget to be.

Ed Howes entertained the members of the high school camping club last evening at his home on prairie avenue. Arrangements were made for a camping expedition about August 1st. Splendid refreshments were served. The members are Walter Adams, Carroll McIntire, Lou Tuttle, Ed. Howes, Charles Wilson, Lou Conradt, Willie Armstrong, Linn Barnes, Frank Haulster, Floyd Gastman, and Mac Crossman.

Charles H. Wingate, of Chicago, is in Decatur on a visit to his brother, Thomas H. Wingate. In 1855 Mr. Wingate and W. J. Carey started the old State Chronicle in Decatur, and Mr. W. remained with a year, while he managed a store. He left Decatur in 1867, and has since prospered as all Decatur people deserve to prosper.—Exchange.

Some Houses.
Henry Melster is building a $1,500 house in the Fourth ward.

Nick Sherer of the same ward is having an $1,800 house erected.

Oscar Zimmerman is having a dwelling erected on West Main street that will cost $2,500.

The Warren street school building is rapidly approaching completion and is a thing of beauty.

A branch of the Inter-State Building and Loan Association was established at Bedy yesterday.

Misses Doris Hall and Agnes Fullerton left for Mechanicsburg last night to visit relatives.

They Were Married.
The case of the state against George and Ada Sullivan, charged with living in adultery, was dismissed yesterday by State's Attorney Mills. The couple produced a certificate showing that they were married the 20th of last December.

Now what is to be done with the man who swore out that warrant charging them with adultery?

The Toughest Conclusion.
"My lawyer ought to be here instead of me," the bungler said through his cell door to the warden.

"You robbed the house, didn't you?"
"Yes, but the lawyer's got all I took. If he's got the plunder, why am I punished?"

Candy Thieves and Now.
It is a good thing for Moneybags, Jr., that the old man shows little disposition to retire from a native business, for it costs a good deal more nowadays to do the correct thing than it did when Moneybags, Sr., went counting. Take the one item of candy for a stance. The old fellow brought a few bullbugs in his pocket now and then perhaps, when he went to see his sweet heart, and even then did more than was expected of him, but today a pound of bonbons at $1.25 is nothing less than nothing if not put up in a dainty box that costs twice as much as the sweets it contains.

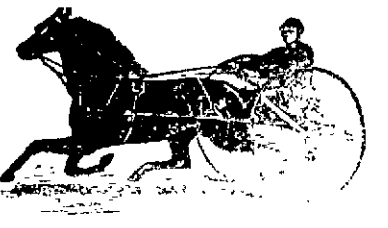

And then, when one gets accustomed to buying the box and considering it the chief part of the gift, how easily one is led into extravagance by the charming things themselves. The useful is combined in them with the ornamental. There are pin boxes, soap boxes, sponge boxes, powder boxes, bookends, etc., etc., and all of them are made in silver or with a quickly made in silver or with a, or wood, costing from $1.50 to $5.00, and holding from $2 to $3 worth of candy, and serving, after the bonbons are gone, as a perpetual reminder of the giver and of the fact that the box needs refilling.—New York Tribune.

Didn't Like the Idea.
An Ohio man who was traveling in Spain happened to remark that the United States would probably buy Cuba some day, and he received three challenges from the local Spaniards within an hour. He got out of his system by means of the Spanish Islands instead of Cuba.—Detroit Free Press.

Four Years on Crutches.
For four years I was afflicted with rheumatism, four years when I was compelled to lie in bed, and I tried every kind of medicine, but without receiving any benefit. I finally began on Swift's Specific, and within from the first year, my rheumatism and day I am enjoying the best of health, and am a well man. I am glad to be able to say that Swift's Specific is the best medicine on the market to-day.
